

OMAN

Maskari receives Caledonian University VC

MUSCAT — Salim bin Nasser Al Maskari, secretary-general of Higher Education Council, received in his office yesterday, Pamela Gilis, vice-chancellor of Caledonian University in Glasgow, Scotland. Present at the meeting was Frank Makintosh, dean of Caledonian Engineering College in the Sultanate.

The meeting discussed the specialties of Higher Education Council in the Sultanate, the role of private higher education institutions in linking specialisation and programmes offered which contributes to fulfillment of development needs in the Sultanate.

The guest praised the efforts being exerted by the Higher Education Council to set up Muscat University by merger of five private colleges. The guest also commended the Sultanate's recent achievements in educational field compared to previous years. — ONA

Maskari receives chief of Caledonian University

MUSCAT — Salim bin Nasser al Maskari, Secretary-General of Higher Education Council, yesterday received Prof Pamela Gilis, Vice Chancellor of Caledonian University in Glasgow, Scotland.

The officials discussed the specialties of Higher Education Council in Oman and the role of private higher education institutions in moulding skilled professionals for the development needs of the Sultanate.

Gilis hailed the efforts being exerted by the Higher Education Council to set up Muscat University by merging five private colleges.

Frank Makintosh, Dean of Caledonian Engineering College, also attended the meeting.

Observer

DISCUSSION: Salim bin Nasser Al Maskari with Pamela Gilis and Frank Makintosh at his office yesterday.

— ONA